MINISTRY OF COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT, PANCHAYATI RAJ & COOPERATION

(Department of Community Development & Panchayati Raj)

RESOLUTION

New Delhi, the 29th July, 1962

No. 4/78/61-Panch.—One of the fundamental requirements of Panchayati Raj is that adequate resources should be available to the Panchayati Raj institutions through transfer or otherwise, to enable them to discharge their responsibilities. The resources can be broadly classified as follows: resources transferred in the form of grants and loans by Central and State Governments, by higher tiers of Panchayati Raj to the lower tiers, the proceeds of taxes, duties, cesses, etc., which the institutions can levy under their own powers, income from remunerative assets developed by the institutions and gifts and donations from public spirited citizens and voluntary contributions by the people. The fifth and sixth meetings of the Central Council of Local Self-Government and the Conference of State Ministers of Panchayati Raj held in Hyderabad in 1961 discussed the ways and means of strengthening the resources of Panchayati Raj institutions and made specific recommendations regarding the transfer of land revenue by the State Government to these institutions, the taxes to be levied by these institution and the various remunerative assets that could be developed by the Panchayats.

The Third Five Year Plan has determined the availability of resources to the Centre and the State Governments as also their allocation under different programmes; and these allocations, priorities and the physical targets in the Plan must be adhered to. Yet a substantial number of development programmes have to be implemented through Panchayati Raj institutions and these institutions are required to raise resources of their own to supplement the allocations made in the Plan in order to achieve the prescribed physical tragets. Such of the Panchayati Raj institutions as desire to take up bigger programmes on their own initiative will have to raise the additional resources required, themselves. In this context therefore it becomes important to define the resources to be made available by the State Governments to Panchayati Raj institutions, the conditions under which the resources should be available and the resources which Panchayati Raj institutions themselves could raise. Augmentation of their resources by Panchayati Raj institutions would also require that the machinery for the collection of taxes as well as the authority responsible for launching coercive processes should be rationalised. Another pertinent question to consider is the power apportionment of the resources among different tiers of Panchayati Raj.

2. These and other connected problems have been engaging the attention of the Government of India for some time. The Government of India have accordingly decided to set up a Study Team to study these problems comprehensively and make recommendations. The composition of the Study Team will be as follows:—

Chairman

Shri K. Santhanam, Member, Rajya Sabha.

2. Shri M. Y. Ghorpade, M.L.A., Mysore.
3. Prof. M. V. Mathur, University of Rajasthan, Jaipur.
4. Shri C. Narasimham, Additional Development Commissioner, Andhra Pradesh.

3. The Study Team will examine, within the broad frame work and provisions of the Third Plan, the resources and finances of Panchayati Raj institutions in different States and make recommendations on the following subjects:—

(a) With due regard to functions transferred, sources of revenue (including land revenue) which should be handed over in full or in part to Panchayati Raj institutions and arrangements for earmarking of certain sources for maintenance of services and institutions under Panchayati Raj bodies.

(b) Grants by State Governments and the conditions to be attached to such grants.

(c) Mutual financial relations between the Panchayati Raj institutions.

(d) Steps to develop the existing resources and to build up revenue yielding assets of Panchayati Raj institutions, and

(e) Steps to attract gifts and donations and mobilise voluntary contributions by the people.

4. The Study Team should submit its report by the 31st July, 1963.

5. The Headquarters of the Study Team shall be New Delhi. The Team may undertake tours as and when necessary and may also meet such persons who may have expert knowledge on the subject.

Memorandum on the Rainfall of June and July and the Probable Amount during August and September 1962

1. WEATHER IN INDIA DURING JUNE AND JULY

June—This year the monsoon set in earlier by about a fortnight in the Peninsula and Northwest India and by about a week in the rest of the country. Under the influence of a cyclonic storm which formed in the southwest Bay of Bengal and moved into the Arabian Sea across the Peninsula, the monsoon advanced into south Kerala on 17th May and also extended northwest upto the south Konkan by 20th. A depression in the Arabian Sea during the period 28th to 31st was responsible for the further extension of the monsoon upto Surat by 31st May. The Bay branch advanced into the south Bay only by about the normal date on 19th. Under the influence of a Bay depression which formed on 24th and moved into Burma on 25th near Akyab, the monsoon advanced rapidly northwards and set in Assam by 27th May. It extended further as a weak current and covered the entire country by 25th June.

The monsoon remained generally weak along the west coast during the month. Two spells of activity, however, occurred in the second and fourth weeks. Bombay (Colaba) recorded 20 cm of rain on 9th.

Generally active monsoon conditions prevailed during the month over Assam and Sub-Himalayan West Bengal. A depression formed on 6th in northwest Bay off Orissa coast, moved northnortheastwards into Assam and weakened by 11th. Under its influence, the monsoon was strong in northeast India with very heavy rain in Assam and Sub-Himalayan West Bengal. This resulted in heavy floods there, Cachar district being the worst hit. Another spell of very heavy rains occurred in these parts during the fourth week, which aggravated the flood situation.

The month's rainfall was in large excess in Assam and in moderate excess in the Madras State. It was in slight defect in the Bay Islands, Gangetic West Bengal, Orissa, Bihar State, Jammu and Kashmir, the Konkan, south Interior Mysore and the Arabian Sea Islands, in moderate defect in Sub-Himalayan West Bengal, east Uttar Pradesh, Marathwada, coastal Andhra Pradesh, Rayalaseema, north Interior Mysore and in large defect over the rest of the country outside Himachal Pradesh for which area the data are incomplete.

July—The monsoon strengthened considerably in the beginning of the month over the Peninsula and central parts of the country, when an upper air cyclonic circulation developed over coastal Andhra Pradesh and neighbourhood with a trough extending into east central Arabian Sea. Devgad recorded 22 cm of rain on 3rd and Mangalore 16 cm on 4th. A marked strengthening over the entire country took place under the combined influence of a depression in the Arabian Sea and another in the Bay of Bengal. The Arabian Sea depression formed on 8th with centre close to Porbandar and persisted over Saurashtra and Kutch. The Bay depression which formed on 11th with centre about 250 kms east of Kalingapatam moved west-northwestwards and merged with it on 14th. Thereafter the system weakened and became unimportant by 15th. Under their influence very heavy rains occurred particularly along the west coast and in the Ghat Section. Veraval recorded 16 cm of rain on 8th and 15 cm on 13th, Porbandar 29 cm on 12th, Naliya 13 cm on 14th and Alleppey 15 cm on 15th. In the Ghat Section, Khandala reported 36 cm of rain on 11th and 28 cm on 12th, Mahabaleshwar 25 cm on 13th and Mercara 14 cm on 9th. As a result of the prolonged spell of very heavy rains, most of the rivers in Kerala rose in spate causing serious floods there during the second week.

The active or vigorous monsoon conditions of the previous month in Assam and Sub-Himalayan West Bengal continued during the first week of this month, Cherrapunji recording 36 cm of rain on 1st. Heavy to very heavy rains also fell in the catchment areas of the rivers in north Bihar during the first week and caused serious floods, there. Later the monsoon activity decreased considerably over these parts and it was normal or even subnormal during the rest of the month.

A low pressure area which formed and moved from northeast Bay of Bengal to the Punjabs during the period 14th to 22nd caused well distributed rain over north India and central parts of the country with some very heavy rains in Rajasthan and the Punjab (I), where water level in some of the rivers were reported to have risen significantly causing medium floods. Hoshangabad recorded 20 cm of rain on 18th, Mount Abu 31 cm, Erinpura Road 23 cm, Ahmedabad 18 cm and Pilani 14 cm on 19th.

Another low pressure area moved from Northeast Bay on 20th and lingered over north Madhya Pradesh, east Uttar Pradesh and Bihar areas from 23rd to 31st. This together with a western disturbance which moved eastwards across Western Himalayas on 28th caused a good spell of rainfall in northeast India, Uttar Pradesh, central parts of the country and Western Himalayas. Kalimpong recorded 19 cm and Sambalpur 13 cm on 22nd, Ambikapur 14 cm on 26th, Dehra Dun 15 cm on 27th, Allahabad 16 cm on 28th, Banda 15 cm on 30th and Jhansi 14 cm on 31st.

The monsoon became feeble in the Peninsula and in Gujarat State and Rajasthan in the last week of the month.

The month's rainfall was in moderate excess in Rajasthan, coastal Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Kerala, in slight excess in the Bay Islands, the Konkan, north Interior Mysore and the Arabian Sea Islands and normal in Orissa, west Uttar Pradesh, the Punjab (I), west Madhya Pradesh, Gujarat State, Madhya Maharashtra, Vidarbha, and coastal and south Interior Mysore. It was in slight defect in West Bengal, Bihar Plateau, Jammu and Kashmir, east Madhya Pradesh and Marathwada and in moderate defect elsewhere over the country outside Himachal Pradesh for which area the data are incomplete.

June and July—The monsoon set in about 10—15 days in advance of its normal date and established over the entire country by 25th June. It was generally weak in June over the country outside northeast India where it was strong upto the first week of July and caused serious floods in Assam and Bihar Plains. The monsoon was fairly active during July over the country as a whole, with a prolonged spell of heavy rain during the first fortnight and consequent floods in Kerala and another marked spell in Rajasthan and the Punjab (I) causing medium floods in the third week.

Total rainfall during the months of June and July combined was in large excess in Assam and normal in the Bay Islands, Orissa, the Punjab (I), Rajasthan, the Konkan, coastal Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, the Madras State, north Interior Mysore and the Arabian Sea Islands. It was in slight defect in West Bengal, Bihar Plateau, west Uttar Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, west Madhya Pradesh, Gujarat State, coastal and south Interior Mysore and Kerala and in moderate defect elsewhere over the country outside Himachal Pradesh for which area the data are incomplete.

The following table gives for each sub-division the total rainfall during the period, its departure from normal and the percentage departure from normal.

2. CONDITIONS HAVING INFLUENCE ON THE RAINS OF AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER 1962

A foreshadowing of the monsoon rainfall of June to September was issued early in June. Recent data have been examined to see if any useful supplementary foreshadowing for the remainder of the season can now be given. The relevant data are the following:—

Indian Pressure in July—In July pressure was subnormal almost over the entire country.

Indian Ocean Pressure in July—At Mauritius, pressure was in excess of normal by 0.5 mb.

Java Rain—The monthly rainfall departures from October 1961 to February 1962 were —74 per cent, —30 per cent, —16 per cent, +27 per cent and +17 per cent respectively.

South Rhodesia Rain—Rainfall from October 1961 to April 1962 was in defect by 87.1 mm.

South American Pressure—Pressure departures were as follows:—

	Buenos Aires	Cordoba	Santiago
	mb.	mb.	mb.
June 1962	0·9	+0·4	+1·5
July 1962	+6·5	+6·4	—0·5

Punjab Temperature Range—Departure of the Punjab Temperature Range ½ (April+May) 1962 was +0.1°C.

Indo-Gangetic River Discharges—Mean departure of the total river discharges during April and May 1962 was in defect by 202 (10,000 cusecs).

3. INFERENCES FROM THE DATA

In foreshadowing the August and September rainfall in the Peninsula [taken to consist of Maharashtra, Gujarat, Madhya Pradesh, Interior Mysore North. Telangana and coastal Mysore (excluding South Kanara)], the chief factors in the order of decreasing reliability as judged from the available data are Mauritius Pressure, Java rain, South Rhodesia rain and Indian pressure. Of the factors, Java rain is favourable, South Rhodesia rain indifferent and Mauritius pressure and Indian pressure are both unfavourable. The statistical analysis indicates that there is a four to one chance that the total rainfall of August and September 1962 in the Peninsula will be below 113 per cent of the normal.

For Northwest India [taken to consist of the Uttar Pradesh, the Punjab (I), Himachal Pradesh, Delhi and Rajasthan], the factors used in the order of decreasing reliability, as judged by the available data are Indo-Gangetic river discharges, Indian pressure, Punjab temperature range, South Rhodesia rain and South American pressure. This year South American pressure and Indo-Gangetic river discharges are both very favourably, Indian pressure favourable, South Rhodesia rain moderately favourably and Punjab temperature range is indifferent. The statistical analysis indicates that there is a four to one chance that the total rainfall of August and September 1962 in Northwest India will be above 120 per cent of the normal.

4. SUMMARY

The total rainfall of August and September 1962 is likely to be normal in the Peninsula and slightly above normal in Northwest India.

MINISTRY OF IRRIGATION AND POWER

RESOLUTION

New Delhi, the 20th August 1962

No. E.L.II-12(22)/62.—Consequent on the failure, on 26th July, 1962, of a 38 MVA transformer of the Punjab State Electricity Board installed at the Rohtak Road Sub-station, for supply of power to Delhi, it was necessary for the Delhi Electric Supply Undertaking to press into service all its generating plants to meet the demand on its system. The Undertaking has, however, been shedding loads in various localities in rotation for some hours on the ground that some of its generating plant was under repairs and also that the output of the 20,000 KW diesel plant installed during 1958—60 had gone down. The situation was further aggravated by the reported shortage of cooling water for the 'A' Station of the Undertaking on 8th-9th August, 1962, resulting in the temporary closure of 4 units with a total capacity of about 11,000 KW. The situation arising from the shedding of load by the Delhi Electric Supply Undertaking has resulted in a great deal of inconvenience to the public and also caused loss of production and dislocation of business. The Government of India have, therefore, in consultation with the Mayor, Delhi Municipal Corporation, set up a Committee consisting of the following:—

Chairman

1. Shri K. R. Damle, Secretary to the Government of India, Ministry of Mines and Fuel.

Members

2. Shri K. P. S. Nair, Member, Central Water and Power Commission.

3. Shri Brij Mohan, Chairman, Standing Committee, Delhi Municipal Corporation.

4. Shri B. K. Uppal, Deputy Secretary in the Ministry of Irrigation and Power will act as Secretary to the Committee.

2. The terms of reference of the Committee will be as under:—

(i) To investigate into the causes of shortage of cooling water experienced at the 'A' Station of the Delhi Electric Supply Undertaking on 8th-9th August, 1962, and to report on the adequacy of the arrangements made by the Undertaking for ensuring a reliable supply of cooling water from the river before and during the crisis. Could the breakdown caused by recession of water from the river not have been avoided and were adequate steps taken in time to retrieve the situation?

(ii) To report whether the Delhi Electric Supply Undertaking took all reasonable steps with due expedition to step up its own generation to meet the situation resulting from the failure of the 38 MVA transformer at the Rohtak Road Sub-station on 26th July, 1962.

(iii) To investigate into the causes of delay in the provision of a cooling tower for the 'A' Station of the Delhi Electric Supply Undertaking.

(iv) To investigate into the causes of abnormal derating in the output of the 20,000 KW diesel plant installed during 1958—60, and to report on the steps taken by the Undertaking for proper maintenance thereof.

(v) To inquire into the arrangements made by the Undertaking for the shedding of load resorted to after the failure of the 38 MVA, transformer of the Punjab State Electricity Board at the Rohtak Road Sub-station on 26th July, 1962, and to report whether the shedding of load was regular and the minimum necessary to meet the situation.

The Committee will also fix responsibility for any failure or default in all the aforesaid cases.

3. The Committee shall submit its report within a month.

PRESIDENT'S SECRETARIAT

New Delhi, the 3rd September 1962

No. 50-Pres./62.—The President is pleased to award the Police Medal for gallantry to the undermentioned officer of the Mysore Police Force:—

Name of the officer and rank.

Shri Bharthur Narasimhaiengar Ramaswamy, Assistant Commandant, Mysore State Reserve Police, Bidar, Mysore (deceased).

Statement of services for which the decoration has been awarded.

On the 7th April 1962 at about 7-30 p.m., a Police Orderly attached to Shri B. N. Ramaswamy was pouring petrol into a can in the corner of an unlighted room in Shri Ramaswamy's house. In the darkness, the Orderly accidently poured some of the petrol onto the floor and it spread to the floor of the adjoining room. When the Orderly did not hear the sound of the can filling up, he fetched a lamp to see if it was full. As he brought the light near the can, the petrol caught fire and the flames spread into the other room also. The Orderly finding himself trapped shouted for help. Shri Ramaswamy who was sitting on the verandah of the house, heard the cry and without a second thought plunged through the flames in both rooms to rescue his Orderly. Though severely burnt himself he managed to reach him and remove him from the flames that engulfed him. Both men were immediately taken to hospital. Shri Ramaswamy was, unconscious for two days and, later succumbed to his injuries. The Orderly though badly burnt recovered.

In saving the life of his Orderly at the cost of his own, Shri Ramaswamy showed exemplary courage, gallantry and a high sense of duty.

2. This award is made for gallantry under rule 4(i) of the rules governing the award of the Police Medal.

PLANNING COMMISSION

RESOLUTION

New Delhi, the 29th August 1962

SUBJECT:—Technical Panel on Import Substitution.

No. I&M-11(2)/62.—As a result of the industrial development which has taken place under the First and the Second Five Year Plans, it has become possible to achieve reductions in imports on an increasing scale over a wide range of industries. However, the rising tempo of development also tends to increase import requirements and place a burden on the limited foreign exchange resources available. In the present circumstances, it is all the more essential that systematic efforts should be made to secure substitution for imports through effective use of the existing capacity in the country and linking up grants of foreign exchange for spares, components and raw materials to the utmost extent possible with definite programmes for saving on imports. To examine the technical and other possibilities of replacing maintenance imports, formulating specific programmes and recommending appropriate measures, it has been decided to constitute a high-level expert Technical Panel on Import Substitution. The Panel will study these problems and make recommendations for import substitution with special reference to maintenance imports in respect of the following industries:

(i) Industrial machinery and parts, including boilers, cement machinery, paper-making machinery, dairy machinery and cranes;
(ii) Automobiles and ancillaries, including diesel and petrol engines;
(iii) Construction equipment, including pile driving equipment, earth moving machinery and agricultural tractors;
(iv) Railway rolling stock, equipment and materials;
(v) Electrical industries;
(vi) Metal working machines, such as rolling mills, foundry equipment, wire drawing machinery, machine tools, etc.
(vii) Scientific and industrial instruments;
(viii) Substitutes for non-ferrous metals, fibres, rubber, tinplate, etc.
(ix) Chemicals and dyes.

2. The Panel may take up studies in such other related industries as may be considered necessary. It may make recommendations concerning individual industries as its studies are completed and may also submit interim reports. The Panel may constitute special expert groups for evolving detailed proposals in cooperation with the industries concerned and may for this purpose arrange to co-opt such members to the Panel or to its expert groups as it may consider necessary.

3. The Panel will consist of the following:

Chairman

(i) Shri G. L. Mehta.
